

Citizens protest nudity, 'obscene dancing'

Newly-open topless bar uncovers local unrest

BY JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

The use of topless go-go dancers as entertainment in a downtown bar has uncovered a surge of opposition from local businessmen and other residents of Romulus.

Spurred by the Central Business District Association (CBDA), a petition is being circulated by local merchants, senior citizens and clergymen to end the bare-breasted gyrations.

The Landing Strip Lounge, 36431 Goddard Road, is the place where the go-go dancers are appearing daily and it has local people upset. Especially disturbed are the downtown merchants who say the topless entertainment will mar their efforts to build a viable downtown business community.

Romulus City Council also passed a resolution stating they "disapprove and discourage topless dancers and other types of adult entertainment."

However, the members of CBDA call that a "slap on the wrist" and urge Council to enforce local ordinances and state laws which they say will keep the bar from getting its annual entertainment license.

City Attorney Chuck Lowther, on the other hand, told City Council that topless dancing is permitted and said it cannot be banned. He added that state laws supersede local laws.

"The public has a right to sit-in and picket and protest peacefully to discourage a business they think is harmful," he told Council.

Mary Ann Banks, mayor pro-tem, submitted a hand-written resolution to Council, calling for the elimination of this type of "adult entertainment."

The resolution reads:
"It is our duty to protect the welfare of the city of Romulus and its citizens and: "Whereas establishments with topless dancers generally lead to other types of adult entertainment locating in the area causing the neighborhood to quickly deteriorate, and

"Whereas this deterioration breaks down the morale of the community as a whole, and Adult Entertainment of this nature conflicts not only with the Renovation of Downtown, but located anywhere in the city, conflicts with the pride we have in our community,

"Therefore be it resolved the elected officials of Romulus acting in accordance with the recognized standards of propriety, and desiring to make Romulus a better place to live, do hereby disapprove of and discourage topless dancers and other types of adult entertainment."

Council approved the resolution 7-0.

Lowther sent a statement to Council members explaining that "bottomless dancing" is prohibited, but topless dancing is permitted by the Liquor Control Commission. He said that Walled Lake officials had been successful in outlawing bottomless dancing in their city. "Through that case the Liquor Control Commission was successful in revoking the liquor license of a licensee for violation of Rule 436.37.

"Unfortunately, applying those rules to the present situation, the Liquor Control Commission does not outlaw topless dancing," Lowther stated.

The developing story took a new turn recently when the Romulus Central Business District Association circulated a petition against the topless dancing and Mayor William M. Oakley refused to allow any of the petitions to be placed in city buildings.

Romulus plans marathon date

How about a "Romulus Marathon" patterned after the famous one held annually in Boston?

And how about running five miles during "Michigan Week" as part of the festivities?

These two questions were posed to Mary Ann Banks, Mayor pro-tem, recently and she passed the thought along to Mayor William M. Oakley at a Council meeting. "A man who sits on his porch and watches joggers run by every day asked what I thought about running 5 miles as part of Michigan Week," Mrs. Banks told her colleagues at the Council table.

"He said we had a lot of good country roads on which to make a nice course."

She asked the mayor how he liked the idea. Mayor Oakley said he thought it was a good idea to pursue. "I will get with the Recreation Director about it and get back with you," he told Mrs. Banks.

Board okays summer school

Romulus School Board has unanimously approved offering summer school for interested students in grades 7-12 on a tuition basis.

The district has offered summer school to students for the past five years. "There has been a need and interest sufficient to support the program," said Marvin P. Fischer, assistant supt. for Curriculum and Instruction.

Fischer pointed out that 158 students attended summer school in 1979 and 150 were in the classrooms last summer.

The Board approved spending $2,000 for transportation. "This cost represents a reduction of $1,000 from last year's program. If the Recreation Department participates, it will not increase the district's cost," Fischer said.

This year's summer school will run from June 18-July 29, with time off on July 3 for the holiday.

Many fond memories

Council allocates $20,000 of CDBG funds for new park

Romulus City Council has authorized spending $20,000 on a new city park that will feature a tot lot, picnic area, basketball court and ice rink.

Cypress Park — a one-half acre site to be developed with Community Development Block Grant funds — is located between Ecorse and Beverly roads, one-half mile west of Wayne Road.

According to Pat Hogan, city grants coordinator, the park will have a tot lot, with a wide assortment of slides, swings and other recreation facilities for children to play on and climb around. In addition, there will be a picnic area and a mini basketball court that can be used as an ice rink in the winter months.

In approving the $20,000 CDBG funds, Council made the stipulation that May 31 be set as completion date. Plans for Cypress Park have been in the works for more than two years and Council wants some fast action on the project.

Some $35,000 had originally been slated for the park, but Hogan was notified earlier this month that $15,000 from the Dept. of Natural Resources (DNR) was rescinded.

"You will find a communication I received from the Michigan DNR indicating that the President has placed a freeze on the funding for the Cypress Park. It is his intention to rescind all allocated dollars from the 1980-81 program and cancel the 1981-82 program," Hogan informed Council.

Mayor William Oakley recommended that Council go ahead with what funds are available. "It is my belief, that using our own people (engineering and DPW), we can establish a nice park for $20,000. I recommend that we do that, rather than wait for additional possible funds," Oakley said.

Council concurred with the mayor's recommendation, with the added stipulation that May 31 be the completion date. Hogan said city workers would begin right away on the park and said he was hopeful of having it completed as soon as possible.

Hogan explained that loss of the $15,000 in DNR funds would not affect two other projects under way. "You might wish to know that this action does not affect the tennis court project at Henry Ruff Park or the handball court project at Elmer Johnson (Park), as these projects had already received formal approval and had signed contracts," he informed Council.

Hogan was notified by Jeanne Powers, DNR grants coordinator, that President Reagan proposed to Congress a freeze on all 1980-81 projects without a federal contract and elimination of state and federal grants for fiscal year 1981-82.

The cutbacks would mean a rescission of $145 million of the $228 million appropriated for fiscal year 80-81 and all projects without federal contracts are "frozen." It also means elimination of state and local grants for fiscal year 81-82, she informed Hogan.

"These proposals, if approved, would certainly affect the capital outlay plans of many of Michigan's local units of government," she stated in her letter to Hogan.

Board closes South Jr High

Romulus Board of Education voted last night to abandon the use of South Junior High School for K-12 instruction. After months of deliberation by a citizen's committee and the Board, a decision seemed likely based on the result of a public hearing held on April 16.

The Board reviewed information from the citizen's committee and Superintendent William Bedell, concerning the status of South. The information showed that the district will save a minimum of $250,000 a year in operating costs in abandoning the facility for regular instructional use. This can be done by placing all 7th and 8th graders in the school district in North Junior High School and transferring all 9th graders to the Senior High School. In addition to the $250,000 savings, Bedell pointed out several other advantages to the school's closing.

1. Instead of delivering services to approximately 1,300 junior high students in grades 7, 8 and 9 at two facilities at 650 each, the district will be servicing about 800, 7th and 8th graders in one facility. There will be additional cost savings in teacher assignments as well as a chance for richer opportunities for the students.

2. All 7th and 8th graders will have access to the newer facilities at North, which include better locker facilities, a larger library, more adequate science rooms and larger classrooms.

3. The 9th graders at the High School will be able to participate in a broader range of activities.

The South Jr. High Building will continue to be used as a school facility, Bedell pointed out. Approximately two-thirds of the facility will be used by the Intermediate School District to provide a Day Treatment Center for Downriver and Romulus students. The other section of the building, which includes the gym area and shops, will be taken over by the Romulus Community Education Program.

Programs for adult students and other activities will be scheduled there. Community Education Director William Smith anticipates that the use of South will enable him to offer a broader range of programs to all citizens, including perhaps some of the senior citizens living in the nearby high-rise tower.

Board President Wayne Avery said, "The Board understands how important the South school building has been to the Romulus community. It has been a center of community life and a high school and a junior high school for many of our residents and their parents."

"Our declining enrollment, however, causes us to have to make this move. It is gratifying to know at least that the building will continue to be used and remain a center for community use."

The Citizen's Committee that made the original recommendation was chaired by Bill Raeck and is continuing to meet to consider possible elementary school consolidations.

Old twp. hall gets historic designation

The Romulus Grange Hall, located at the corner of Goddard and Sterling in downtown Romulus, has been selected this year to be designated as a local historical site. The Romulus Council joined Mayor William M. Oakley and the Romulus Historical Society in making this designation. The ceremony and Sunday picnic are scheduled to be held on Heritage Day, May 17 during the celebration of Michigan Week. The public is welcome.

The ceremony will begin at 1 p.m. at the Grange Hall. The hall is now being used by the Lighthouse Assembly of God. Permission has been granted to make use of the hall for inside ceremonies.

Following the ceremony all are invited to attend the community picnic to be held at 2 p.m. at the Elmer Johnson Park, located half mile north of Five Points, Romulus on Ozga Road.

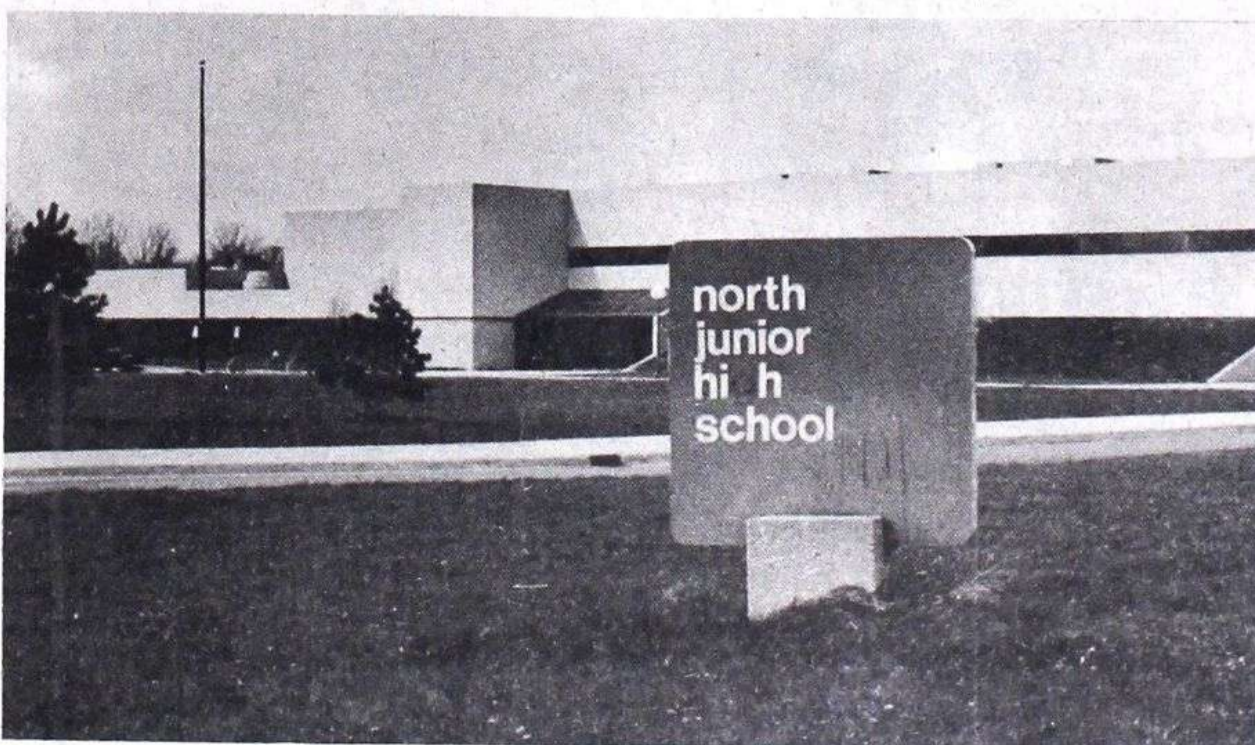

Please bring your own lunch and table service. Coffee and cold beverages will be provided. There will be games and prizes for the children.

The Romulus Grange Hall was built about 1911. It was built for the use by the Grange Organization. The Grange, popular name for the Patrons of Husbandry, is a national organization for farm families.

It was organized mainly as a social and educational organization for farm families. Record shows that Romulus had a very active Grange at one time.

It sponsored travel trips, held Memorial Day Celebrations complete with recitations, honoring of Civil War and World War I Veterans and a parade to the cemetery. There was a young adult drill team that performed at various community functions, also a part of the Grange.

Ansaras offer 'Something Different'

Unique service to senior citizens

By ERIC GEARNS

The word 'involvement' unfortunately developed a bad connotation during the hectic Vietnam Era.

Involvement came to stand for marches and riotous demonstrations which filled our daily newscasts and gave us a very negative idea of being involved.

But being involved in their community has been a way of life for five brothers. From the time they were born the Ansara brothers; Mike, Sam, Nebil, Emil and Bassom, ages 19 to 30, have been taught to be positively involved in their community and to be especially helpful to senior citizens.

They weren't any different from their neighbors in the small Christian population of Jerusalem, where the elderly were especially respected because for their wisdom that only age can bring.

When the brothers arrived in the United States, they noticed the lack of attention and respect that was given to American senior citizens. They were amazed, they said, seeing so many seniors coming into their store and buying just a few things, because they were unable to carry very much or to get a ride to the supermarket.

The family-owned business, "Something Different" Party Store, located on Ford Road, east of Wayne in Westland was doing very well, but the brothers felt that they needed to become involved in their community, and especially in helping senior citizens. The idea gave birth to the Something Different Delivery System.

The principle of the service is quite simple: The brothers deliver to seniors and the disabled living at several complexes whatever they need and order in the way of groceries, health and beauty aids, produce, meat or retail drugs at no charge.

"This isn't just a gimmick designed to sell products, because our prices are very competitive with the major supermarket chains or less and there is no delivery charge," said Corporation Board Chairman Don MacKenzie. "The Ansaras feel very strongly, as do all of us, that our seniors deserve to be honored and not forgotten and this is our way of doing it," he added.

It took some investigation before the Ansara realized that the service was needed.

"I would see these senior citizen towers and I thought that they were really living the high life," said Bill Ansara. "I never realized that some of them weren't eating right because they had to walk over a half mile to the store.

"I would deliver food to my grand-

'Wheels for Life' needs cyclists

Bike-a-thon chairman Ted Clayton today urged Belleville Area residents to participate in the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital "Wheels-for-Life" Bike-a-thon, scheduled for May 16.

Volunteer workers and riders are needed for the Bike-a-thon to raise funds for the world famous research center and its battle against childhood cancer and other catastrophic childhood diseases.

Clayton said this year's ride is being dedicated to Terry, a leukemia patient at St. Jude.

"By riding for Terry, we'll really be helping all stricken children since research is the only way these illnesses can be conquered," he said.

"We're looking for people who will contribute some of their time and energy to help children live. We really need bike riders, since they are the ones who can make this Bike-a-thon successful."

In the Bike-a-thon, riders enlist sponsors who donate a sum for each mile completed. Riders who raise $25 will receive a St. Jude T-shirt, and those raising $75 will receive a back pack.

"We also have prizes for other riders and sponsor forms are available at local stores," Clayton added.

"You can put your muscles to work for a child's life in this Bike-a-thon. We need every bike and every rider."

Interested persons can contact Ted Clayton, Pine Grove Terrace #F-4, Ypsilanti, phone: 482-6872.

St. Jude Hospital was founded by entertainer Danny Thomas, and operates primarily from public contributions.

rural free postal delivery, better farm-to-market roads and improved waterways. It was also in favor of better marketing facilities for agricultural products.

The Grange Organization no longer exists in Romulus. In the thirties there were four active Grange groups—Romulus, Belleville, Flat Rock, and Plymouth. Today the closest active Grange is located in Plymouth, Michigan. It is called Plymouth Grange No. 389 and has a local membership of approximately 70 members.

The exact date of the disbandment of the Romulus Grange is not known at this writing. As the Grange no longer used the building, it became occupied by the Romulus Township Government. The Romulus Grange Hall, at 36572 Goddard in downtown Romulus, served as Romulus Township's municipal government headquarters until 1970. At this time the new building complex located at 11111 S. Wayne Road, became the center of the newly formed city government.

Since the Romulus government moved to its new headquarters, the hall has been occupied by various other groups and individuals. The present owners of this historic building are Anthony D. and Mary J. Kopas, residents of Romulus.

Historical designation

The Romulus Grange Hall was built about 1911 (above) and later was used as Romulus Township Hall from 1930 to 1970. Located on Goddard Road at the corner of Sterling in downtown Romulus, the building will be officially designated as a historic site in ceremonies on Sunday, May 17. (Above photo courtesy Romulus Historical Society).

Sheriffs receive unexpected aid

Benefit scheduled to raise funds

People in Van Buren, Canton and Romulus are concerned about the impending withdrawal of Wayne County Sheriff Deputies from policing the city. Wayne County Commissioners have said they will cut the budget of that law enforcement group and County Deputies will not patrol Romulus after May 19. City officials are working hard to continue the contract they have with the Board of Commissioners for police protection from the Deputies.

Meanwhile, Wayne County Sheriff William Lucas has gone to court in an effort to keep County Deputies in Romulus and other places that have contracted for its services.

One area restaurant owner, Randy Wright of Randy's Restaurant in the Sheraton Inn, was joined by his general manager, John Jarrett, in doing something tangible to help the Deputies.

The pair approached Ed Rasmussen of Canton, who is political action chairman of Local 502 of the County Deputies. They asked permission to hold a fundraiser for the benefit of the sheriff's legal fees. More than $3,000 was raised at the April 3 benefit which was tabbed an "S.O.S." event — Save Our Sheriffs.

"We feel that the Wayne County Sheriff's Patrol is absolutely necessary and we do not want to lose its protection," Wright said in hosting the event.

Jarrett added, "This is our way of showing our appreciation and doing what we can to help keep you operating in Romulus."

They donated the $3,000 to the Sheriffs for legal fees in their battle to keep the Road Patrol open, especially in the City of Romulus.

Several dignitaries were among the 500 who attended the affair. Included were Lucas, Undersheriff Loren Pittman, Romulus Mayor William Oakley, County Commissioner R. William Joyner, several Charter Commissioners, plus cameras from television stations WDIV (channel 4) and WJBK (channel 2).

The S.O.S. slogan — thought up by Rasmussen for the occasion — has caught on and bumper stickers with that message: "S.O.S. — Save Our Sheriffs" are available for $2 each by calling 721-2222.

People were on hand from several local communities, including Normay Tyler of Van Buren Township, who started the petition drive to save the Sheriff's Department. There were many off-duty police officers from neighboring communities present to lend their support.

Rasmussen reports that contributions have been pouring in to the Deputies' legal fund since the benefit dinner. The Deputy Sheriffs Association of Michigan donated $1,000; Macomb County Sheriff's Dept. sent $2,000; Oakland County Sheriff's Dept. contributed $1,000 and the Brownstown Township Firefighters sent $1,000.

Rasmussen said all those donations were appreciated very much.

"But the most moving donation of all," he said, "was a check for $25 sent from the Oakbrook Senior Citizens Club of Romulus. These dear people don't have much money at all and yet they showed their great generosity by sending a check to us."

"That really was a moving experience — and these fine people are to be highly commended for their concern for others," Rasmussen said.

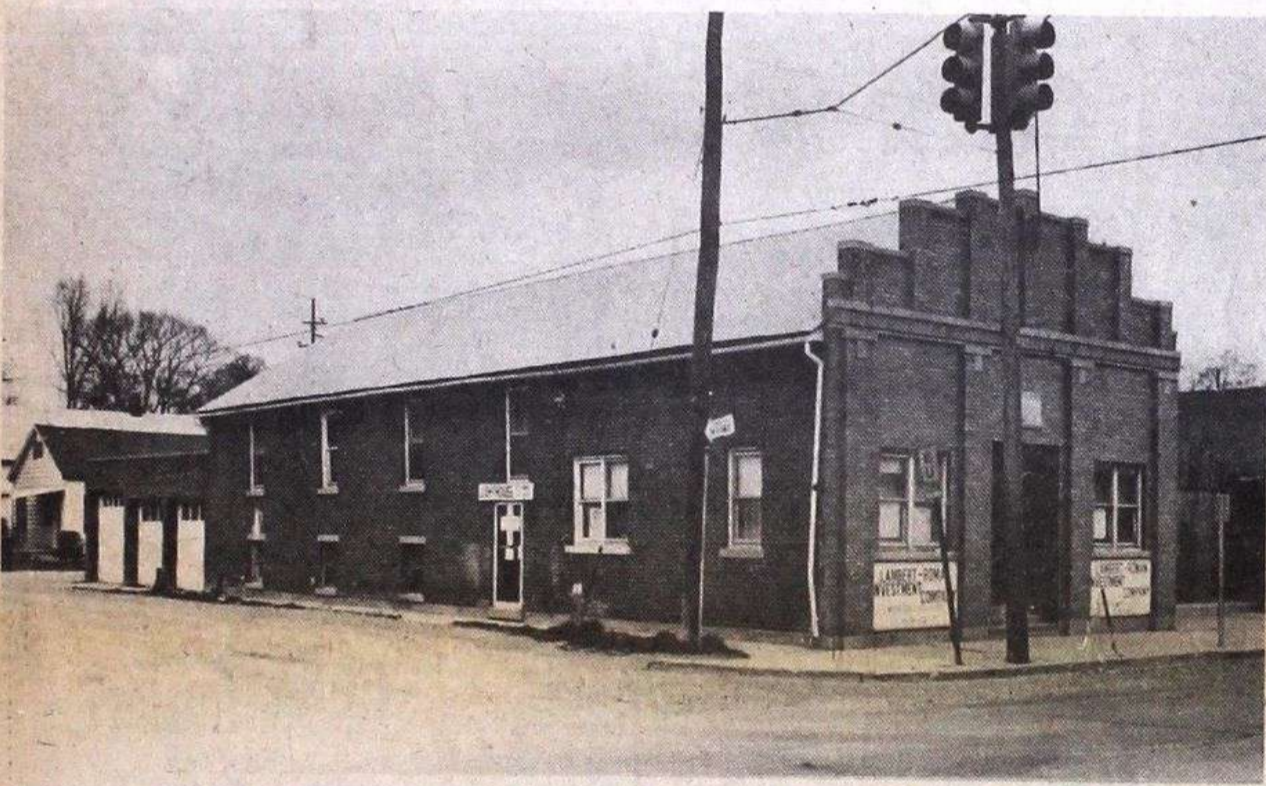

Other restaurants in Western Wayne County have reported they are planning to hold "S.O.S." benefit dinners to help the Sheriff's legal fund.

Federal grant monies go to new park

"The rescission bill, House Document Number 97-32, should be of special interest to your community. This is because your particular project (Cypress Park) does not yet have a signed federal contract. If the rescission is approved, there is a very good possibility your project will never be federally-assisted."

She indicated that the future of the allocation will be decided by Congress, which may defeat or modify the rescission.

Topless bar stirs controversy

The RCBDA petition reads:

"We, the undersigned, exercising our constitutional right of petition hereby petition the Government of the City of Romulus, to eliminate and control lewd, licentious and immoral business activities in the City of Romulus, including but not limited to the topless dancers at the Landing Strip Lounge at 36431 Goddard Road, Romulus, Michigan."

RCBDA officials informed the Romulus Roman, Mayor Oakley responded by saying, "I told them personally that I would not support a petition. I told them if they want to take the business name off the petition, I would permit it in city buildings.

"I've met with the owner four times trying to get him to change his mind, but all I got was mouth service," Oakley said. "Felix Rogalle (a Romulus attorney) met with our city attorney and have told me there's nothing we can do."

Oakley was asked about his feelings regarding topless dancing. "I don't like it. I feel the same way about topless dancing as I do about junkyards. They're a blight to our city."

"But when I took the oath of office, I swore to uphold the laws of the state, nation and the city of Romulus. As far as I am concerned, it is a legal business and has a right to operate."

When informed the downtown business association felt he was not communicating and cooperating with downtown merchants,

Oakley replied, "I believe I have as high or higher morals than anyone circulating this petition. It's not a moral issue, it's a legal issue."

"There's two or three of them (from the downtown business association) down there who say I'm not communicating and cooperating."

Oakley concluded by saying, "This story should be placed on page 8 or 9 where it belongs. The more publicity we give to it, the more business it will get."

William Simonds, owner of Bilmar's Market and President of the RCBDA, spoke on behalf of the merchants.

"We have made our position clear from the beginning that we are against this type of entertainment. We sent three letters, dated March 7, 1980, March 20, 1980 and Feb. 12, 1981 to community leaders and city officials.

"The RCBDA feels the city as yet has not taken any real action. I'd like the public to take another look at the wording on the petition and judge for themselves.

"Our Central Business District Association made it clear that we are not against any individual or business. But we are against this type of adult entertainment that we feel is a blight to the community and will lead to an unhealthy environment, especially for our children," Simonds said.

Two local ministers, The Rev. Lonnie England, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, and The Rev. Father Walter Lezuchowski, pastor of St. Aloysius Catholic Church, both spoke to their church members about the petition and encouraged them to sign it. "I've never had such a response before," Fr. Lezuchowski said.

Can you top this?

The Landing Strip Lounge in downtown Romulus has become a center of controversy since topless go-go girls have been featured as entertainment. City Council passed a resolution discouraging such entertainment and residents are circulating petitions registering their strong opposition.

Ansara brothers offer 'Something Different'

 father everyday and I started talking to some of them, and realized what was happening so my brothers and I decided if nobody else is going to help we will," he explained.
 And helped they have for the past three years.
 Not only do they deliver, but in many cases they enter and stock the shelves and refrigerators themselves. "Why not?" says Nebil, "It only takes us a few extra minutes and it may take them an hour or so."

 The services have expanded drastically, to the point where the company now owns over 50,000 square feet of warehouse space and services over 4,000 seniors. And they are still growing.

 The kindness and concern shown by the Ansara and MacKenzie hasn't gone unnoticed.
 They have been praised for their services by Governor William Milliken, State Senator William Faust (D-Westland), State Rep. Thomas Brown (D-Westland), State Rep. Sylvia Skrel (R-Livonia), Westland Mayor Thomas Taylor, Westland Council President Charles T. Griffin, and many others.

 But according to MacKenzie they don't do it for praise. "It is nice to be recognized for something, but our feeling is that no thanks are needed because this is something that every human being ought to be doing. Our seniors have spent their whole life serving their communities and their families and they deserved to be treated with dignity and respect," he said.
 Not only do they deliver to the seniors, they also entertain them. The brothers give one party per month at each of the 20 plus complexes they service. The parties are replete with decorations, refreshments, and various acts from the amateur to the professional level.
 The service also accepts and cashes personal, social security and pension checks from the seniors.

 So, the word involvement has once again been made positive, thanks to the hard work and deep commitment of the Ansara brothers, Don MacKenzie and "Something Different."

Grassam honored

The Board of Trustees of Life Chiropractic College in Marietta, Georgia has announced the appointment of Dr. Ian A. Grassam, of Lyon Township, to the Board of Regents of the newly established Life Chiropractic College-West in San Lorenzo, California.

Dr. Grassam is founder and Director of The Grassam Chiropractic Life Center in Garden City. He is currently a member of The Board of Trustees of Life Chiropractic College-Georgia where he serves as national fund raising chairman.

Life Chiropractic College was established in Marietta, Georgia in 1975 with an enrollment of 36 students. The college has grown to a capacity enrollment this year of 1540 students, to become the second largest college of chiropractic in the world.

Dr. Sid E. Williams, President of Life College, who along with Dr. Grassam and others founded the college, stated that the capacity enrollment at Life-Georgia and the increasing need for Doctors of Chiropractic led to the decision to establish Life-West.

The Board of Trustees also announced the appointment of Dr. Gerard Clum, currently Vice-President of Life-Georgia, to the Presidency of Life-West. Life-West has a current enrollment of over 200 students.

UHT Funeral Home

IS A TRADITIONAL SERVICE NEEDED?

It is — if we are to retain the dignity and pride as set by our national character.
 It was Blackstone, the noted English statesman, who put it so well when he said: "Show me the manner in which a nation or community cares for its dead and I will measure with mathematical exactness the tender sympathies of its people, their respect for the law of the land, and their loyalty to high ideals."

Whole nations are saddened and go into mourning when their leaders die. Recently, the United States mourned one of its favorite senators, Minnesota's Hubert H. Humphrey — whose traditional and full-service funeral was of national significance.

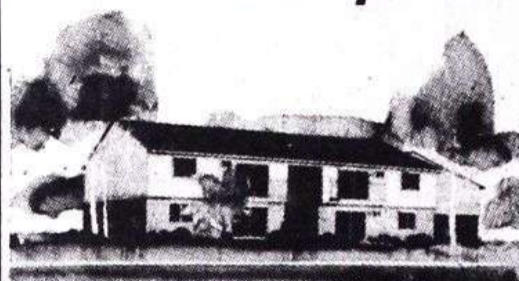

On Memorial Day and Veterans Day and to render tribute to national leaders who have died, we fly our American flags at half-staff. We observe these traditions with patriotic and religious ceremonies. They, are, in effect, national funeral ceremonies. Indicates Dr. Arthur Froese ("Help for your grief" 1977). He feels these national rituals periodically help our country deal with death, and we agree. We will be glad to discuss this in detail with you.

According to Staff Sergeant Bernie Schmidt, the Air Force recruiter here, Willcockson's entry into the DEP serves two purposes.

First, it allows the Air Force to schedule an opening for him to attend basic training and be assigned to a job or skill area.

Second, the DEP enables Willcockson, a 1979 graduate of Romulus High School, to wrap up his personal affairs before leaving home.

Willcockson will enter the Regular Air Force on July 13. Following graduation from the six-week basic training course at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., he will receive technical training in the mechanical aptitude area and be assigned to an Air Force duty station.

Navy Airman Recruit Michael J. Letizio, son of Audrey Smart of 23991 Karr, Belleville, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes.

During the eight-week training cycle, trainees studied general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.

Included in their studies were seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid.

Timothy L. Denison, 18, son of Gary W. Denison, 39555 Willis Rd., Belleville, has entered the U.S. Air Force's Delayed Enlistment Program (DEP).

According to Technical Sergeant Roy Smith, the Air Force recruiter here, Denison will commence four years active duty on Oct. 15, undergoing six weeks

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the munitions and weapons maintenance field.

The airman's mother, Donna J. Taylor, resides at 6346 N. 47th Ave., Glendale, Ariz.

It's now lieutenant Bergmooser

A 1975 Romulus High School graduate has been given the highest possible ratings in his performance evaluation as a platoon leader in Korea.

Second Lieutenant Larry M. Bergmooser was described as having "unlimited potential. This officer can do it all," his rating superior said.

"Recommend he be offered a company command position as soon as one is available." These glowing reports of 2LT. Bergmooser came for his work during the past year as a platoon leader and executive officer for a combat engineer company involved in support of the 2nd Infantry Division and construction projects along the demilitarized zone of Korea. He was promoted to First Lieutenant on March 17.

A National Honor Society student at RHS, Bergmooser later graduated from Michigan Technological University in 1979 with a BS degree in Civil Engineering. He finished U.S. Army Engineer Officer basic course at Fort Belvoir, Va. and graduated from Paratroop school at Ft. Benning, Ga.

He has been stationed at Yong Tre RI, Korea for the past year and has received excellent ratings on his performance.

Captain Mark C. Nelson said Bergmooser always exceeded requirements. "2LT. Bergmooser performed all of his duties in a superb manner," he states. "He was personally selected to be assigned to B Company to alleviate the additional workload that is inevitable in a separate company on its own compound."

Other comments made by Nelson and confirmed by Battalion Commander Tadahiko Ono include: "Outstanding capacity. Given limited time and training, he soon became an expert in several areas. His discipline was the highest, a model for all officers."

"His judgment and suggestions were invaluable. Accepted many difficult responsibilities with alacrity. Sacrificed his personal needs for the betterment of the unit."

BADMOUTH OR SWEETMOUTH?

I know it's not a pleasant subject, but halitosis is a fact of human life. It is not a disease, but a sign that something is happening in your mouth. It might be as simple as the natural action of saliva on bits of food or as serious as tooth decay, gum disease or even the symptom of a more serious disease.

Bits of food left in the mouth, is by far, the most common cause. Food debris gets caught in any number of places in the mouth, mixes with bacteria and the product is "bad breath". Onions, garlic, alcohol and tobacco, by their nature, can also cause foul breath. Cavities (which are food traps for bacteria), tartar buildup, and poorly-fitting dentures are also common causes of halitosis.

What can you do about halitosis? It's a simple, two-pronged approach: dental appointments on a regular basis and regular home care for your teeth. The dentist will fill the cavities, remove the tartar, and make sure the bridges and dentures fit. A proper brushing and flossing regimen is the key to your personal dental hygiene. Between brushings, rinse your mouth to dislodge food particles. Be a sweetmouth!

They weren't kidding about senior cutbacks

On this page in our Guest Viewpoint is an opinion by a Westland resident that concerns most of us directly or indirectly. It concerns senior citizens, a group, if fortunate enough we will, if we haven't suffered the alternative, join one day.

The guest writer pleads with the City of Westland, namely, Mayor Tom Taylor, and Council, to restore the money that will make the Department of Aging a viable once again.

Because a limited 1.5-mill levy failed earlier this year, and because some people feel that the seniors were the driving force behind that failure — and we don't know how anyone could have figured that out — some quarters theorize that the proposed budget for that department, a meager $37,000, is in direct retaliation for the seniors' action.

Last year the seniors' were allocated $253,000 of the city budget, which is in excess of $18 million.

Although most of the city's departments have suffered major cutbacks, the Department on Aging appears to have been singled out for more than its share.

We have stayed silent on this subject hoping that the Mayor and council would seem fit to reconsider the proposed budget.

We have stayed cool, despite the overwhelming letters that we should take an editorial stance to the contrary.

Some might call the department's programming frivolous, but for seniors in the community Tele-Care, Home Chores, Meals on Wheels and similar programs are not frivolous. They are needed to stay independent and not become a burden on their families and their community.

We cannot afford to set our senior citizens a drift on the ice flow to fend for themselves. They are as much a part of our community as anyone else and deserve services suited to their needs. To cut a department as drastically as proposed by Mayor Taylor is an insult to seniors. It implies that they, and their programming, were important only as long as they served the needs of the administration. "Sour grapes" has no place in determining who will get what portion of the tax dollar.

We cannot urge enough a rational approach to financing the department on aging. Many of those services that the mayor has recommended for elimination were volunteer in nature — for seniors handled by seniors.

We owe it to our seniors to keep them active vital members of the community for as long as possible. Eliminating the department on aging is counterproductive to that idea.

Can't believe Department on Aging would be cut

I cannot believe the city of Westland after struggling twenty five years would even consider fazing out the Department of Aging.

The services that the Department on Aging provide for our older Americans in the City of Westland are vital and are well earned and deserved by the older American and those who have sweated and poured money into the programming, along with hours of hard work to bring into focus a program of enrichment and dignity to the elderly in Westland.

The program for the older American in the City of Westland is well known all over the State and in Washington, D.C.

Why can't other departments take a little of the fat off?

Why is it the poor, handicapped and elderly have to suffer first?

How can the City of Westland be so proud of their senior citizens and their programs and turn around and cut off the very thing that has put Westland on the map as the place to go if you are an older person looking for services and programming. The older persons in other cities are moving to Westland because they believe in the city of Westland and its Department on Aging. How then can the City of Westland consider cutting it out?

If the Department of Aging is left with one person and a small program you are stepping back further than any of the other cities that are faced with the ax! I ask the Council of the City of Westland to ask our Mayor, Tom Taylor to please reconsider.

Once the City steps back twenty five years it will have a hard time getting back the federal grants they have thrown away! We can't afford, not only as taxpayers, but as humans who will be aged in time to wait another twenty five years. The elderly will make up 15 percent of our population within the next few years what then? The senior citizens have already paid their way-give it to them!

Some of the programs most needed for handicapped, shut-ins and older Americans are meals on wheels, hot lunches, friendly visitors, tele-care, information and referral, loan closet, and locations for receiving inoculations and services for keeping the older American proud to be an American, plus keep their selfworth and dignity. These programs are Life Savers!

I started with Nankin Township in 1960 and watched for ten years the Senior Citizens Club grow and develop, worked for Wayne-Westland School District with the elderly for eight years, I'm an advocacy for the older and handicapped American, and have two parents still living who are shut-ins, believe me these programs mentioned above are needed. They not only help the older American stay alive and in their own homes, but also help the many sons and daughters that are trying to keep their parents in their home alive and happy, and out of the Nursing Homes.

The City of Westland must realize what damage is being done by cutting out the Department on Aging and surely what it will do the older handicapped and elderly American. Remember you never get back what you throw away, and let me ask each and every one of you how would you feel if it was your mother or father, and perhaps you —

The race is on in 37th

By TOM MOORADIAN
Managing Editor

Politics are, or is, if you wish to use it as a collective noun, fascinating.

And think about the above for a second: No sooner were we discussing "who'll replace State Rep. Tom Brown in the 37th District" when the telephone rang. The beauty of the system.

"Sure I'd like my old job back," said Vincent Petitpren who once served the cities of Wayne, Westland and Canton as their state representative before he lost the title to Bill Faust, who subsequently went on to the Senate.

And, that, of course, opened the door for Tom Brown, who it now appears wants "his old job back." Oh, yes, Brown was the mayor of Westland back in the good old days when the city didn't have to worry about deficits, and times were slower.

Brown, if you haven't heard or read, has tossed his proverbial hat into the ring for the mayor's job in Westland. Just before a special election this year, incumbent Tom Taylor announced that he won't seek re-election.

Now all we need is "good-old" Gene McKinney to pop up in these parts and say he wants to join the race.

Sometimes being on this side of the typewriter really can be fun.

Petitpren has proven that he can be elected to office.

"I know it's a bit premature," he says, "but I've been talking to people, and people have approached me on the possibility of running for Brown's seat."

"I held the job back in 1964 until 1970," Petitpren continued, "and I would like to continue where I left off. I really haven't heard how many others will be seeking that post, but I'm seriously thinking about running."

With five kids now grown, Petitpren says he believes he'll have the time to run a strong campaign.

And, do you know what, I believe him.

Now that the endless waiting is over, watch the other candidates start coming out of the woodwork.

And there is this lady in Belleville who is a zealous patriot, of the rarest of its kind.

It is rare to see one advocating a "Loyalty Day" in an age of distrust.

She wrote to Belleville Mayor Justin Emerson and urged him to set aside May 1 as "Loyalty Day" and "ask all citizens to fly the American flag on that day."

Now, to come out and say anything against her suggestion would be like attacking motherhood and apple pie.

But we feel that there are too many "days" being set aside for special events as it is.

And isn't June 14 Flag Day, anyway?

Bernard F. Hillenbrand

"Guns or butter?" is a classic economic debate again being conducted on Capitol Hill. This time, Americans will not be saving their butter and other household fats for manufacture of munitions, as was done during World War II. What has been proposed is that some "butter", in the form of selected domestic programs be sacrificed in lieu of increased military spending.

America must improve its military. But continued, unsupervised spending may not help reach that goal. The Soviets increase their strategic nuclear superiority daily, while our nation's military performs with outmoded equipment, few spare parts, inadequately trained and compensated personnel. The billions lost from uncontrolled defense contracts is a national scandal. Here are just a few examples of military cost overruns revealed during routine audits by the U.S. General Accounting Office (GAO). They are all too typical:

— The cost of 47 major weapon systems increased $28.9 billion in the last three months of 1979. In the last three months of 1980 they increased another $47.6 billion.

— The U.S. Army's M1 "Supertank" got started in 1971 with an estimated delivery cost of $507,000 each. In January, 1980 GAO reported the tanks reliability was "uncertain", even for the new asking price of $2,549,000. Some 7,058 are on order.

— In 1979 GAO reported to former Defense Secretary Harold Brown that his staff underestimated nearly $1 million on a contract for five patrol combatant hydrofoil missile ships.

— A February, 1980 report predicted a new navigation satellite system will increase in cost from $1.7 billion to $8.6 billion because figures for replacement and user equipment were not included in the initial analysis. The system, incidentally, may not perform adequately.

Now the administration — and Congress — plans to increase military spending by $30 billion in 1982!

By 1984 the total military budget will account for a third of the nation's tax dollar. Some authorities think cost overruns will continue. According to a controversial study by the Congressional Budget Office, inflation-caused overruns may total $136 billion, 8 percent of the $1.5 trillion projected for defense spending through 1986. "We don't get enough for our money," says Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss.).

What we need is a Congressional oversight committee on defense spending like that headed by Harry S. Truman during World War II.

When the so-called "military-industrial complex" was riding high, this junior senator from Missouri uncovered vast corruption and inefficiency in the awarding of defense contracts. He saved our nation millions... and we WON the war.

The committee was formed at Truman's instigation in 1941 when the country was just tooling up. Originally, Truman was motivated by the huge contracts being let through "favoritism." Later, his investigators also uncovered fraud, waste and abuse.

Huge fixed fees were offered by the government in much the same way Santa Claus passes out gifts at a Christmas party," Truman complained. Contractors weren't the only scoundrels, bureaucrats, industry and labor were equally faulted.

In one instance the committee discovered agencies were overcharging for use of rental equipment — to the point one quartermaster figured new equipment would have cost $12 to $13 million less than the rental arrangement.

The committee saw the war effort bogged down in mismanagement and red tape: A hoard of copper was held by the Navy while a nearby Army factory producing vital supplies was threatened with shut down for want of the same metal.

These are not times of war. And yet, the predicted spending spree among agencies in the U.S. Department of Defense will come at great sacrifice for all Americans.

According to calculations from the University of Chicago's widely-respected Center for the Study of Welfare Policy, proposed welfare and food stamp budget cuts would hit the working poor much harder than those who rely on welfare alone.

In a study of ten states, the center researchers found many poor families would be no better off if they quit work and relied entirely on welfare and food stamps.

"The proposals reduce financial incentives to work for A.F.D.C. (Aid to Families with Dependent Children) mothers in all states, and in a few states eliminate these incentives entirely," the study states.

As a result, some local officials fear massive swelling of welfare rolls.

Robert Greenstein, former administrator of the Food and Nutrition Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture; now a lobbyist for the Field Foundation, a private anti-hunger group, claims the administration's "social safety net" programs are predominately for the elderly non-poor. In testifying before Congress, Greenstein said, "Of nearly 25 million Americans whose incomes are less than $5,603 (single person household), 16 million persons, about 64 percent, receive no benefit from the seven programs, or at most, receive free school meals."

His findings show that 80 percent of the dollars go to people whose incomes are above the "poverty line", over half benefit people with incomes twice that. Eighty-five percent of the federal outlay for these seven programs are concentrated in Social Security and Medicare programs that do not require participants report income. Two thirds of the federal outlay for the remaining five "safety net" programs go to veterans.

Only 5 percent of the federal funds for these seven programs are for the poor. Nor is the middle class immune from changing government priorities. It's tax burden is not likely to disappear overnight, postal rate hikes, high interest rates on mortgages, loss of student loans and forthcoming changes in Social Security will affect them profoundly.

So much for the "butter". Considering the support for increased defense spending, it is only proper the people get high quality defense for their tax dollars. Cost overruns simply will not do.

Guns or butter?

Municipal clerks want their own week

Legislators urged to designate May 10-16 as 'Municipal Clerks Week'

Two local municipal clerks have been recognized for their diligence in recording the events of their communities in light of Municipal Clerk's Week coming up.

Leonard J. Folmar, who has served as City Clerk of Romulus ever since it became a city in 1971, and Mary Lou Carey, longtime Clerk of Huron Township, are veterans in the demanding job of chronicling the history of their communities.

They are joined by their friends who hold the same position in cities and townships neighboring their city and township.

To honor those who bear the title of municipal clerk, all levels of government are being urged to introduce legislation calling for the designation of the week of May 10-16, 1981, as "Municipal Clerk's Week."

The International Institute of Municipal Clerks, representing thousands of our nation's most time-honored professional public servants, endorses and recommends such recognition and itself sets aside this special week in honor of those who daily serve the principles of efficient and effective local government.

As a matter of recorded history, the municipal clerk can be traced back to pre-Biblical times. Cities of ancient Greece each had a City Secretary who read aloud official documents. Among his first chores was an important duty which formally began each meeting; the reading of a curse upon anyone who would seek to deceive the people.

The Book of Acts in the Holy Bible records the story of the apostle Paul and his followers being saved from mob mayhem in the Persian City of Ephesus when the town clerk spoke out against this action and insisted that proper charges be brought against the men and settled by law before proper authorities. In the face of that logic and reason, the riot died aborning.

Even earlier, keepers of official archives were called "remembrancers" for their ability to commit everything to memory. Their memory was the public record.

The Office of Clerk goes back to the Middle Ages, the year 1272 A.D. as written in the History of the Corporation of Old London. Initially, a "Clerk" was any member of a religious order; hence "cleric" or "clergyman." The reason was that, for all practical purposes, the sum total of all scholarship during those Middle Ages was limited to the clergy. Thus the name "Clerk" became synonymous with "scholar."

At the birth of America, early colonists set up forms of local government similar to those they were accustomed to in their homeland. The office of clerk was among the very first established. Thus, the quill and scroll joined the sword, axe and plow as America's first oft-used tools.

Since earliest days, municipal clerks have been the hub around which revolved virtually all the official acts of local government, forming the direct link between the inhabitants of a town or city and their government. Each record, formal document, each piece of recorded official history, is in the charge of the municipal clerk.

These custodians of official dom, the tie between government and citizen, have their collective roots sunk deeply into our democratic form of government.

A fund-raising drive has been undertaken by the Suburban Bar Association to furnish the Lawyer's Conference Room in the new 35th District Court Building.

The Conference Room is in the court building now under construction at 660 Plymouth Road in Plymouth, serving the cities of Plymouth and Northville and the Townships of Plymouth, Northville and Canton.

"It is an honor for the Bar Association to be given an opportunity to have a room where our members and other awyers may wait and meet in the new Dunbar Davis Hall of Justice which has been named in honor of Judge Dunbar Davis," said Gail McKnight of Westland, president of the Suburban Bar Association.

She added that Judge James Garber, also of the 35th District Court, had suggested the project to the Suburban Bar Association.

A commemorative plaque will list the names of all who donate to the Suburban Bar Association Room.

Plymouth production continues

Simon's 'Chapter Two' comes from the heart

Cynthia Zeitz (left), Chuck Miller and Linda Pavey are among the featured performers in the Plymouth Theatre Guild's presentation of "Chapter Two." This adaptation of Neil Simon's comedy will be performed at 8 p.m. May 1 and 2 at Central Middle School in Plymouth. Tickets are priced at $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for students and senior citizens.

Special to Playtime
Write from the heart, they always say. Write about what you know best. Write from the depths of your own experience.

In "Chapter Two," that experience is the death of a beloved spouse and the conflicts of a second marriage.

Even the prolific playwright Neil Simon must have found it difficult to lay his heart on the line. To relive his experiences in a story that so closely parallels that of himself and his second wife (actress Marsha Mason) that he called it "semi-autobiographical."

But the result is a poignant portrait of second love, edged with a bitter realism that could have only come from real life.

Simon's play is currently in the excellent hands of the Plymouth Theatre Guild, who deliver a very professional performance of "Chapter Two."

By means of a dual set, the stage is divided into the apartments of George Schneider, a newly-widowed writer, and Jennie Malone, a recently-divorced actress. The two meet over the telephone in a delightful dialogue, fall in love in spite of themselves, and get married a mere two weeks later.

But George soon discovers that he feels disloyal to the memory of his first wife, and resentful of Jennie's desire for happiness. Jennie struggles to help George, and yet maintain her own self esteem in the face of his inevitable comparisons.

I must hasten to assure you that yes,

DRAMA

Simon is a comedy writer. The serious theme of "Chapter Two" is laced with wit and humor. In fact, George's expressions of inadequacy often reminded me of Woody Allen.

Moreover, a subplot concerns an attempted affair between Jennie's friend Faye and George's brother Leo. The developments are quite hilarious, though this couple, too, must finally come to terms with themselves and their own troubled marriages.

I guess you could pull out the old cliché about laughing on the outside. "Chapter Two" manages to be very funny and very poignant and ultimately very true.

Vestus J. Spindler portrays the introspective George charmingly and convincingly. He also directed the show! Cynthia L. Zeitz's Jennie was irresistible—wide-eyed and sincere, yet sensible and strong. Both performers were so natural they scarcely seemed to be acting; and I find myself believing that's how they are in real life too!

Cantonite Linda Pavey, as the high-strung Faye, made an essentially-comic role quite compelling. Zeitz and Pavey worked particularly well together.

Chuck Miller as Leo rounded out the excellent cast. His scene begging Jennie not to marry George so quickly was especially good.

I recommend a drive to Plymouth to see "Chapter Two." It will be presented this Friday and Saturday evenings (May 1 and 2) at 8 p.m. at the Central Middle School, 650 W. Church. Tickets are $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for students and seniors.

Opening in May

double attraction

"Feiffer's People" and the Movin' Theatre's "Head Over Heels" are being presented on a double bill at Wayne State University's Bonstelle Theatre as the final production of the 1980-81 season. Performances are May 8 to 10 and 15 to 17, beginning at 8:30 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays and 2 p.m. on Sundays.

The first half of the evening's fare will be the Movin' Theatre's "Head Over Heels." It brings theatrical dance to life in a calcade of historic and modern dance. The program also includes pantomime, impressions of the silent films, vaudeville acts and a variety of other musical numbers.

The Movin' Theatre company, which has performed state wide in Michigan schools as well as at the Detroit Institute of Arts and Hart Plaza, is directed by Nira Pullin, WSU Theatre choreographer and professor of stage movement. This season's company includes Robert Lambert of Romulus. The musical director is David Kuykendall.

Following "Head Over Heels," "Feiffer's People" will take the stage as they present a revue of comic sketches and satirical observations on contemporary American life. According to playwright Jules Feiffer, renowned cartoonist, humorist, and social satirist, he writes about "the conditions of American society on a number of different levels, politics being one, social life being another and sex in the lives of Americans another."

Tickets and information for "Head Over Heels" and "Feiffer's People" are available from the Wayne State University Theatre box office, Cass and Hancock, Detroit, 48202. Reservations may be made by calling 577-2960.

Bach is disappointing

Monsters steal Caveman's show

"Caveman," from United Artists. Directed by Carl Gottlieb. Written by Rudy DeLuca and Carl Gottlieb. Starring Ringo Starr, Barbara Bach and John Matuszak. Rated 'R.'

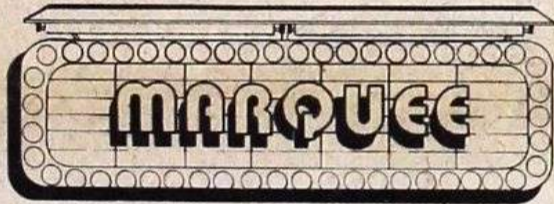

Nobody expected "Airplane" to be a runaway hit when it debuted last summer.

And despite striking out when the Oscar nominations rolled around, it still continues to bring in big bucks at the box-office. "Airplane" succeeded because it poked fun at a particular film and TV genre — airplane disasters.

"Caveman," though comedically flawed, may pick up where "Airplane" left off. This United Artists film tries to parody all of those Neanderthalic flicks which pitted the caveman against prehistoric monsters and the harsh climactic elements.

The difference here is that "Caveman" has virtually no dialogue, which means that sight gags and slapstick have to keep the moviegoer in stitches in order to succeed. Unfortunately, "Caveman" is more sophomoric than it is funny.

"Caveman" is the story of Atouk (Ringo Starr), a 90-pound weakling who lusts after Lana (Barbara Bach), a curvy cavewoman who belongs to the nefarious Tonda (John Matuszak).

Each time Atouk tries to lure Lana away from Tonda's gang of thugs he is chased away. It's bad enough Atouk has to contend with comical hungry critters like the big-horned lizard or the carnivorous Tyrannosaurus Rex.

Frustrated in his attempts to secure Lana, Atouk teams up with his friends to try and devise a plan for the ultimate assault on Tonda's strong hold. As time goes on, Atouk becomes the object of Tala's (Shelley Long) affection — another good looking lass, but not in the same league as Lana.

Is there a moral to this wacky yarn? Believe it or not, there is, but it's all so contrived.

The performances of Ringo Starr, Shelley Long and John Matuszak (the Oakland Raiders notorious defensive lineman) were quite convincing. But I'm a bit disappointed with Barbara Bach's performance.

She has more talent than to just wiggle her shapely derriere for the camera. Hers was the kind of role that would have been perfect for an unknown actress.

"Caveman" will probably draw crowds because of Ringo Starr's and Barbara Bach's off-screen antics, which will be good enough as far as United Artists is concerned. For me, the monsters were the best part of the flick.

Ringo Starr and Barbara Bach star in 'Caveman,' an attempt to parody those flicks which pitted cavemen against prehistoric monsters. The film relies almost entirely on sight gags and slapstick.

Huron River camps set

This is a wonderful season in which to enjoy a canoe trip along the Huron River in southeastern Michigan.

One of the most popular routes begins on the Huron River southwest of Pontiac, through Milford, Kent Lake in Kensington Metropark, the Hamburg area, Hudson Mills and Delhi Metroparks northwest of Ann Arbor, southeast to Ann Arbor and on to Belleville and Lake Erie.

There are several Huron-Clinton Metropark overnight campsites available by advance permit. Charges are $1 per canoe up to 5 ($5 maximum). Permits are available by contacting the park offices at Kensington Metropark (685-1561), Hudson Mills Metropark (426-8211) or Lower Huron Metropark (697-9181).

Canoe rental service is now available at Delhi Metropark northwest of Ann Arbor (with advance reservations advised during busy spring weekends and the summer months).

What's That Sound?

By STEVE O'LEARY

No one-hit wonder

It may not be considered very "hip" to like Don McLean these days, but if that's the case, then there were an awful lot of unhip people at Canton's Center Stage for his concert a couple of weeks back. Personally, I frown on elitist attitudes in music anyway, so I decided to give the man a chance to impress me. Lo and behold, he did!

Entering the hall about 10 minutes after McLean had started his set (I'm not used to performers that start on time), I hurriedly scoured the floor for an empty table, which was nonexistent on this night. After finding a seat at a half-full table, I finally was able to pay full attention to the stage, and was surprised (although delighted) to hear McLean joking with the audience.

"I just can't pass up the chance to do something different...even if it's stupid" was his introduction to the jazzy "It's a Beautiful Life." His sincerity was evident throughout the concert, both in his stage rapport and his singing.

Next up was McLean's second most famous song, "Vincent." It's obvious beauty left me with no doubt as to why the song is played daily at the Van Gogh Museum in Amsterdam. "Hmm..." I thought. "This guy's good..."

A few rough and tumble rockers followed, with "Prime Time" standing out, filling the already crowded dance floor to the edges. To be honest, I was surprised at the cheers of recognition which met most of the songs. After all, I thought Don McLean was a "one-hit wonder."

The hit I'm referring to came next, and as Don sang those famous opening words, "A long, long time ago—I can still remember..." the cheer was tremendous. For nine minutes, McLean's voice and the combined voice of his audience became one, singing what has become a true American classic, "American Pie."

"Cryin'," his latest hit single, filled the floor with people again, only this time, slow dancing was the attraction. I guess that most people had already had a few drinks, because the scene was semi-obscene—a scribble in my notebook reads "I wish I had 25 cents for every groin being rubbed out there now."

An encore later, and the crowd started to leave, obviously happy with the show they'd seen. And so was I. Having come not expecting much, I left with respect for Don McLean as a fine story-telling folk n'roll artist.

And while that type of music isn't my usual cup of tea, it certainly is enjoyable every now and then, especially the way Don McLean served it up that night.

Cardiovascular exercises will improve heart and lung capacity

Ninety minutes of exercise each week can firm sagging muscles, increase endurance and help lower a person's odds of injury during summer sports.

"Adults beginning an exercise program should gradually build up to at least 20 minutes of cardiovascular exercise for three to five days per week," states Walter Zeiler, Auto Club of Michigan's MemberLife manager. "A 20- to 30-minute workout is needed to challenge and improve the capacity of the lungs, heart and muscles, known collectively as the cardiovascular system."

Cardiovascular exercises include a number of moderate and vigorous activities listed in Auto Club's "Summer Fun Energy Guide."

"Most fitness experts agree that running, bicycling and swimming help produce peak cardiovascular fitness and burn the most calories per minute," Zeiler said.

Running a mile in less than eight minutes has the same conditioning value as playing handball for 35 minutes, cycling five miles in less than 20 minutes or swimming 600 yards in less than 15 minutes. Walking at a brisk pace for 30 to 40 minutes is also an excellent cardiovascular exercise.

To avoid the dangers of overexertion, individuals should see a physician before beginning a vigorous exercise program if they have medical problems, suspect disorders or are over age 35.

Physicians stress that individuals beginning a summer fitness program should not do too much, too fast or too soon. Participants should ease into activities to avoid the muscle aches, excess fatigue and injuries common among "weekend athletes."

Participants also should choose activities that are fun and appropriate for their conditioning and not be swayed by what's popular among neighbors and friends.

To shape up with safety and for best results, follow these tips:

- Include a five- to 10-minute warm-up and cool-down period in all sports activities. Do exercises that involve large muscle groups plus exercises to condition key muscles used in the sport. Mild, slow stretches are best for they prevent the build up of lactic acid which causes muscle pain.

- Exercise at a comfortable level so that you can carry on a conversation. Signs that you're working too hard are faintness, nausea, shortness of breath, chest pain and a racing pulse. Observing any of those signs means you should consult a physician.

- Monitor your pace by checking your heart rate immediately following exercise. First subtract your age from the figure 220. Multiply the resulting figure by .80. The answer should approximate your target working heart rate, give or take five to 10 beats, which should not be exceeded when exercising.

- Pain is your body's message to stop what you're doing.

- Avoid dehydration by drinking plenty of water before, during and after exercise to replace lost fluids.

- Wear light-colored and airy clothing to help cool your body while exercising. Rubber exercise suits are not advised because of the threat of heat exhaustion and heat stroke.

- On hot and humid days, work out or exercise during the morning or evening to avoid heat stress. Reduce the amount of time you workout and take short, frequent rests.

'Ways and Means'

The plays are being presented in repertory at the Hilberry Theatre through Saturday, May 9. Robert Klein stars on radio

Best kept secret is exposed

By STEVE O'LEARY
Playtime Special Writer

What's the best kept secret in town? Without a doubt it's the Robert Klein Radio Show, which airs every Monday at midnight on WABX, 99.5 on your FM dial.

I only recently discovered the show — when I heard that Bob Geldof of the Boomtown Rats was going to be a guest, I called nearly everyone I knew trying to get some information on where and when the show was on. No one knew anything about it, but one person said that they thought it "used to be on WABX."

So I called up the station, only to have the disc jockey tell me "I'm not sure...I think we carry it. Maybe you should call back tomorrow." Is there any wonder that there's no publicity for the show when the station's own dj's aren't even aware of it?

Every week, comedian Klein has a musical guest or two, along with a live performance by yet another group. And while the musicians are usually top names — recent weeks have seen the likes of Ted Nugent, Robert Fripp, Blondie, and Ringo Starr — the live performances are by some of the best new bands around, like Joan Jett, Elliott Murphy, and the Roches.

Klein is a knowledgeable rock interviewer too, and his humor keeps the pace flowing, often, as happened with Bob Geldof and Robert Fripp, paving the way for interesting debates among the guests themselves.

So tell your friends about it, and don't forget to tune in the Robert Klein Radio Show next week, and maybe the area's best kept secret won't be anymore.

'Now if you get lost Bobby, just show them this ID badge,' Ringo Starr (right) explains to Robert Klein at a recent taping of the Robert Klein Radio Show. The Klein show airs every Monday at Midnight on WABX.

Just in passing

Is make believe obsolete with today's youngsters?

(Editor's Note: A longtime reader reminded of a column written some time ago, subsequently repeated and even once (with permission) included in a church publication. It was suggested that it be run again for the readers who may have missed it. KD)

By KAY DeBORD

I feel sorry for today's children. They have become victims of a society that anticipates their needs before that need has come into being.

There has been such a concentrated attempt to understand their "needs" and subconscious thoughts that the child's very daydreams have been organized.

Natural play has been "interpreted" right out of existence.

"Messing" with mud and finger-paints is analyzed and all the joy of being messy has disappeared.

There's no need to pretend. The toy manufacturers have anticipated that and their ingenious contrivances have eradicated even that part of childhood.

Oh yes, there are crafts and organized activities. These things have their place too.

But when did the world of make believe become obsolete?

When was the last time you saw a little girl playing dress-up in oversized clothes and oblivious of the fact that adults might see it in a ludicrous light?

Instead of sharing with mother, older sister or grandmother the joy of searching for unused articles of clothing that would serve the purpose — the toy departments have provided garments and accessories for the "little lady."

Instead of mother's outmoded shoes that clump convincingly, there are high heels made just to fit little girls' feet. And grandma's beads have been replaced by toy jewelry "sets" even to tiaras — and stubs of mom's lipstick have been relegated to the wastebasket in favor of makeup kits and perfumes for little girls.

The little girls can't pretend with their dolls. Now dolls talk, cry, wet their diapers, frown, sing, walk, dance, sleep, wake — all by mechanical means. They have boyfriends, wigs, cosmetics, jewelry to size, hair dye and their own special quarters that are more deluxe than the conventional "doll house."

For boys, no more contrived cowboy or Indian suits — or even pretend astronaut suits. Now they have their own miniature versions of these — even to soldiers' fatigues.

They don't have the fun of finding a piece of wood that's a suitable shape to be turned into a cowboy's "gun." Now they have toy guns that are so real appearing that they are frightening. And no more "bang — you're hit!" when the bad guy hits the dust. Even the sounds are there.

Poor kids.

They'll never know the thrill of scrounging for parts to make a pretend car with personality. Or of building a dollhouse from a wood box or crate and furnished with furniture concocted from sundry boxes, jars and bits of material.

The elaborate cut-out books have done away with the thrill of searching through a catalog for a pair of "legs" to match a lingerie ad head and torso to make up a paper doll. Or of drawing and coloring an elaborate wardrobe for the resulting paperdoll.

Somehow it seems that childhood is slowly being eradicated in favor of succeeding generations of "small adults."

It's ironic — but it seems to me that today's upper and middle class children are truly "underprivileged." Only those who are members of families in lower income brackets are "rich" enough to be able to use their imagination and can cling to the world of "pretend" that used to be the inalienable right of every child.

Maybe they're luckier than they know!

Junior Study Club members map a busy spring agenda

The meeting of the GFWC-MSFWC Belleville Junior Study Club was held April 15, at the Huron River Drive home of Ms. Ellie Grudzien, and was attended by approximately 15 members and guests.

Among the agenda items covered were: The tentative planning of a Shoplifting-Crime Prevention mini-seminar aimed at educating merchants regarding exactly what they can do to stop this type of costly theft. The seminar will be co-sponsored by the GFWC Belleville Juniors, Van Buren Township, Van Buren Township Police Department; and the Belleville-Van Buren area Chamber of Commerce. The seminar is tentatively planned for late spring.

Education Committee Chairman Sandra Lauth reported that the club had received approximately 12 applications for the Genevieve Clark Scholarship so far... deadline to apply is April 30. She further reported that the GFWC Belleville Juniors had received cash contributions from the Garden Club, the Trinity Episcopal Church Women, and the Belleville Women's Study Club (sister group). With their contributions, much needed, the Scholarship will be awarded in the $285-$300 range. The scholarship winner will be honored at the club's annual Nite Out Banquet, to be held this year at the Woodstone Rest.

The club received its formal "call to both the State and National Conventions — The State in Midland — May 12, 13, 14; the National in Iowa in mid-June. Several members made plans to attend the State Convention.

A special swearing ceremony was held to initiate the club's newest member, Mrs. John (Delphine) Dudick, of Van Buren Township, a welcome addition to the group.

WOTM add 6 members to chapter

The Women of the Moose Star Recorder Committee enrolled six new members on its special night, April 13.

Attending were guests from Wyandotte, Ann Arbor, Taylor, Farmington, Milan, Ypsilanti, Marshall and Jackson. There were 12 Star Recorders present from visiting chapters.

Many WOTM members and officers will be present at the Michigan Convention to be held May 1 in Kalamazoo, where several will take part in the ceremonies.

The six new members enrolled were Bernadett Holt, Debby Wojcieowski, Esther Hurst, Beverly Offerman, Nancy Dee and Cheryl Leach.

Checks were presented for Ceramics Education at Moose Haven and a $100 check was presented to Fran Elliott for her trip to New Orleans to receive her Star Degree.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mary Ann Price.

A coming activity for WOTM will be the Mother-Daughter Banquet to be held May 12. It will be a potluck dinner.

The program for the evening was a refresher course in Artificial Respiration and CPR, demonstrated by Fred Hudson of the Michigan Heart Association. Members viewed a demonstration film, and had an opportunity to practice the Respiration and CPR technique on the reccesitation Annie manniken.

The meeting closed with coffee, tea, and chocolate cream pie — provided by this month's refreshment hostess, Mr. Peggy Voigt.

Forbis-Rose vows said in Missouri

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rose of 43259 Harris Road, Belleville, announce the marriage of their daughter, Jill Renee, to Pvt. Christopher Lee Forbis, son of Billy Forbis of Plummer, Idaho, and Mrs. Olivia Stout of Eugene, Oregon.

The wedding took place April 11 at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, where both the bride and bridegroom are serving with the U.S. Army.

The newlyweds will be traveling soon to Germany where they will complete their enlistment. Following their tour of duty in the service, they plan to make their home in Oregon.

Attending the couple at the wedding were military friends, including John A. Enzenauer of 42861 Riggs Road, Belleville, who is also stationed at Fort Leonard Wood.

New on the scene

A baby girl, their first child, was born April 11 to Randy and Cheryl Alt of 9428 Essex, Romulus.

The baby, named Kristin Corin, weighed 8 pounds at birth and was 20 inches long. She was born at Seaway Hospital in Trenton.

Kristin is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Alt of Lincoln Park and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Laidler of Allen Park. She is also the great-granddaughter of Eula Hubbard of Tuckerman, Arkansas and Evelyn Brown of Wyandotte.

A baby girl, their second daughter, was born April 12 to Bob and Mary White of 10166 Wheeler, Belleville.

Laura Marie weighed 6 lbs., 7 oz. at birth at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. She was 19½ inches long.

Her arrival was anxiously awaited by her "big" sister, Jennifer, and by the first grade students taught by Mrs. White at St. Anthony's School in Belleville. The students had a contest to see who had the closest birth date for the baby and its sex and also gave two parties for "teacher." The two were a going-away party and a shower and a greatly appreciated gift was a personalized crib sheet.

Special recipes for bake sale fund raisers

Not everyone is inclined to bake cakes, pies or cookies at home. Many who used to turn out family favorites are now working so there isn't time. Perhaps that's why home-baked pastries at bake sales are so popular and a good way to earn money for church, school or club.

It doesn't take the full membership of a group to do the baking since 10 to 20 people can usually make enough treats for the sale. Bless the person who can bake two pies as easily as one, or whose cake can be divided into two because it's so rich or whose cookies can be sold by the dozen!

Members who don't bake can contribute by filling orders, making change, supplying boxes, bags, labels or just bringing their friends to buy. Set the sale rolling by asking what favorites members will supply. If they lack ideas, jog plans along with these starters: Lemon Butter Milk Pie, a unique old-fashioned pastry with a wonderful crust; Carrot Cake, an "in" variety; and Spiced Apple-Raisin Cookies, always delightful.

Carrot Cake is a moist and buttery delicacy that may be baked a few days in advance. Cream Cheese Glaze is added shortly before taking it to the sale. Spiced Apple-Raisin Cookies, made with butter, will mellow if they're stored in a covered tin with waxed paper between layers. They'll remain moist because of the fruit.

LEMONY BUTTERMILK PIE

One 9-inch pie

- Crust:
 1 cup all-purpose flour
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 3 tablespoons butter
 3 tablespoons lard
 3 to 4 tablespoons milk
- Filling:
 3 eggs
 1/2 cup sugar
 1 cup buttermilk
 1 1/2 tablespoons flour
 2 teaspoons grated lemon peel
 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 2 teaspoons sugar
 1/8 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/8 teaspoon nutmeg
 Lemon slice, if desired Lemon leaves, if desired

Preheat oven to 425° F. For crust, combine flour and salt. Cut in butter and lard until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk a tablespoon at a time, mixing just until flour is moistened. Roll out on lightly floured surface to form a 13-inch circle. Line a 9-inch pie plate with pastry. Trim edges; flute; prick inside with tines of a fork. Bake until light brown, about 10 minutes. Remove from oven and cool completely on wire rack.

Preheat oven to 375° F. For filling, beat eggs and 1/2 cup sugar in small mixing bowl on high speed of mixer until thick and lemon colored, about 5 minutes. Stir in buttermilk, flour, lemon peel and juice and vanilla. Pour into cool crust. Combine 2 teaspoons sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg. Sprinkle over top of pie filling. Bake 25 to 30 minutes or until knife inserted near center comes out clean. Cool completely on wire rack. Garnish with lemon leaves and a lemon slice.

CARROT CAKE/CREAM CHEESE GLAZE

- One 10-inch cake
- Cake:
 1 1/2 cups (3 sticks) butter
 1 3/4 cups firmly packed brown sugar
 4 eggs
 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
 2 3/4 cups all-purpose flour
 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
 1 teaspoon salt
 3/4 teaspoon cinnamon
 3/4 teaspoon nutmeg
 2 cups grated carrots (3 to 4 carrots)
 1 can (8-ounce) crushed pineapple, well drained
 1/2 cup seedless raisins
 1/2 cup chopped nuts

- Cream Cheese Glaze:
 1 package (3-ounce) cream cheese, softened
 2 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
 3 to 4 tablespoons milk

Preheat oven to 350° F. Cream butter; gradually add sugar and beat until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Stir in vanilla. Combine flour, baking powder, salt and spices. Gradually add to creamed mixture; blend well. Stir in carrots, pineapple, raisins and nuts. Spoon batter into well-buttered and floured 12-cup bundt cake pan. Bake 60 to 65 minutes, or until a wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Let cool in pan 15 minutes; remove from pan and cool completely on wire rack. For glaze, beat cream cheese in small mixing bowl until fluffy. Beat in sugar until light and fluffy. Stir in vanilla. Add enough milk to make a slightly thick glaze. Drizzle over top of cake.

In my younger years — much younger, mind you — there was a song out, a nonsensical jingle about having no bananas. But thinking back, I can't remember there ever being a time when bananas weren't in an abundant supply.

Bananas are a delicious fruit that ranks very high nutritionally. They're extremely low in sodium, have practically no fat and are an excellent source of the B-6 vitamin and potassium. They're also inexpensive, easy to handle and prepare and, best of all, come in a natural biodegradable wrapper.

Bananas are color-keyed to clue you to their best usage. For cooking, use green-tipped bananas. When yellow, they may be cooked, or eaten out of hand. When flecked with brown, they're fully ripe and at their sweetest, perfect for infant feeding and ideal blending into cakes, breads, puddings and milk shakes.

When bananas are fully ripe, they may be kept in the refrigerator, despite widespread (even in the McD household) rumors to the contrary. The skin will darken, but the flesh will remain firm.

Everyone has made banana nut bread, served bananas on cereal and just plain eaten bananas in their wrappers, but have you ever tried baking bananas — in the peel — or a midafternoon pick-me-up, called banana snow?

Here are the recipes:

BAKED BANANAS IN THE PEEL

4 firm bananas (use all yellow or slightly green-tipped)
1 tablespoon melted butter
4 teaspoons wheat germ
Cut off the tips of both ends of each banana. Remove a lengthwise section of the peel, about one inch wide, extending from end to end. Brush the exposed area of the banana pulp with butter and sprinkle one teaspoon of wheat germ over each.

Place the bananas in a baking dish and bake at 350 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes, or until banana skins turn completely dark. Serve hot.

Baked bananas are delightfully different and can be served as a vegetable with fish or meat, or as a dessert, topped with yogurt and nuts.

BANANA SNOW

2 bananas
1½ teaspoons honey
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon peanut butter
½ cup plain yogurt
1 egg white
Chopped roasted almonds
Whole strawberries
Mash the bananas with honey, lemon juice and peanut butter. Mix in yogurt. Whisk the egg whites to a stiff foam and fold them lightly into the banana cream. Pile the mixture into four sherbert glasses and garnish with nuts and strawberries. Makes four servings.

The Little League baseball season is about to begin, so it means a lot more use of the microwave oven to fit ballgames into an already confusing family life. With the youngest McD spreading his free time between swimming instruction, baseball games and practice and Boy Scouting, between now and June, Saturdays and Sundays may be the only time we all set down and eat as a family.

Not so intimidated by its quick cooking — it makes some great non-watery scrambled eggs and swanky frankies without a crunchy exterior — nary a dinner meal will go by without a reheat for someone.

In doing a little cupboard cleaning this week, I stumbled across a microwave recipe for "Sunday Chicken" that rates a testing. It's from the Microwave Information Center of the Campbell Soup Company, and surprisingly enough, it doesn't include soup in the ingredients.

Here's the recipe:

SUNDAY CHICKEN

1 medium orange
1 can (10½-ounces) chicken giblet gravy
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cups package cornbread stuffing mix
1 can (8-ounces) yams or sweet potatoes, drained and sliced (about 1 cup)
¼ cup chopped walnuts
2 chicken breasts, split (about 2 pounds)
First: Grate ¼ teaspoon orange rind. Peel and chop orange; set aside. In a 3-quart round glass casserole, combine ¼ cup gravy, butter and ¼ teaspoon orange rind.
Second: Microwave on HIGH 2 to 3 minutes, or until butter is melted. Stir in stuffing mix, yams, walnuts and orange. Arrange chicken on stuffing, with thicker pieces toward the edge of the dish. Lightly brush chicken with 2 tablespoons gravy. Cover with glass lid.
Third: Microwave on HIGH 11 to 13 minutes, turning dish occasionally.
Fourth: Let stand, covered, 5 minutes. Meanwhile, in a 2-cup glass measure, combine remaining gravy and orange rind.
Fifth: Microwave on HIGH 2 to 3 minutes, or until hot. Serve with chicken. Makes four servings.

You can stop smoking, lose weight through the use of hypnosis

You love to eat, but you don't like being overweight. You diet for weeks, come close to your ideal weight, or maybe even reach your goal only to go back to your old eating habits.

You know smoking is not good for you. But you try to quit only to feel deprived when you sit down with your morning coffee.

Van Buren Parks and Recreation Department is offering area residents an opportunity to kick both bad habits painlessly and permanently with hypnosis. Clinical Hypnotist Sue Weingarden from Self Psych, Inc., will conduct a $30 Stop Smoking Clinic on Wednesday, May 13 at 7 p.m. The $25 Weight Control Clinic will be at 9 p.m. the same evening. Both clinics will be held at the Van Buren Township Hall, 46425 Tyler Road, Belleville. To register, call 699-2001 and ask for the Recreation Department.

During both clinics, participants will relax during three hypnotic inductions while Weingarden gives suggestions to their subconscious minds. Literature and cassette tapes will be provided for home reinforcement of the suggestions.

Weingarden holds a bachelor's degree in education and a Master's in higher education. She is certified by the Ethical Hypnosis Training Center, in South Orange New Jersey, and has been trained by James H. Hoke, hypnotherapist and president of Self Psych, Inc.

Again, to register, please call the Recreation Department at Van Buren Township 699-2001.

Master Shopper program stresses fundamentals

In these days of inflation and rising supermarket costs we need to learn how to stretch our grocery dollar to give us the most value and nutrition for our dollar. Consumers also need to learn information which will make buying "decision-making" easier and more effective.

To meet this need, Extension's Master Shopper Program provides training and practical experience in the fundamentals of smart shopping techniques. The training includes 20 hours of demonstrations, "hands on" experience and illustrated lectures. Class size is limited to 25.

Program participants are required to pledge 20 hours of volunteer service to spread this information to others. Community service opportunities to choose from include: Staffing information booths at Farmers' Market, Malls, and State Fair, Grocery Stores and Fruit Markets; Presenting educational programs in the community; Conducting shopping tours for Senior Citizens or Young Marrieds; Media presentations.

Certificates will be awarded participants who complete the course, pass the final exam and fulfill their volunteer commitment. Each will receive a Master Shopper reference notebook.

The classes will be held for six weeks on Wednesdays, beginning May 13, 20, 27, June 3, 10, and 17th from 10 a.m.-12 noon and 1 p.m.-3 p.m. The classes will be held at the Wayne County Education Center, 5454 Venoy Road, Wayne, MI. The cost for the six weeks is $20. The cost includes materials, food tasting, bulletins, beautiful notebook and graduation luncheon.

For more information call 721-6566 or 563-2950.

Nursery to hold Open House

"Wanted" are youngsters two to six years old for fall enrollment at Huron Countryside Co-op Nursery, 24820 Merriman, near Huron River Drive.

Open House will be held at the nursery on Saturday, May 9, from 1-4 p.m. and parents are invited to come and bring their children and see what the nursery school has to offer.

Short subjects...

Separating fact from fallacy on the sometimes controversial subject of nutrition is of interest to all of us who care about good health. But how do we go about separating fact from fallacy? The first step to take is to learn to be skeptical of exaggerated claims and promises. Question the source of information. If in doubt, seek additional information from reliable sources.

Getting the facts about nutrition can be made easier by knowing where to go for reliable information. A registered dietitian (R.D.), who may be employed by your local hospital, health department or school, has the credentials of a bona fide professional in the field of nutrition. So do professionally active nutritionists with degrees from accredited schools and doctors with a specialty in nutrition. You may also wish to check with your local librarian for recommendations on books written by qualified professionals.

An unqualified "nutritionist" can often be spotted by a few telltale signs. Exaggerated claims of a quick solution to a dietary problem is one of the most common. An easy weight loss scheme that promises success without reducing calories is a perfect example. So is the promise of weight loss by eating just one food group to the exclusion of others. If the promise or claim seems unreasonable, it's probably an example of nutrition quackery.

All foods can contribute to a well-balanced and nutritious diet. The key is being sure to select a wide variety of foods each day. Eating a wide variety of foods, in moderation, from all food groups should provide adequate amounts of all the essential nutrients. For help in selecting food for a nutritionally sound diet, you may wish to refer to the USDA publication, FOOD, which contains a recently revised Daily Food Guide. FOOD is available for $3.25 by writing to: Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C., 20402.

If you like old-fashioned goodness, you'll enjoy Cabbage au Gratin Soup: Sauté two cups shredded green cabbage and one-half cup finely chopped onion in three tablespoons butter until tender. Stir in three tablespoons flour, one-half teaspoon each caraway seed and salt, one-fourth teaspoon each pepper and paprika. Remove from heat; gradually stir in three cups milk. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Boil and stir one minute.

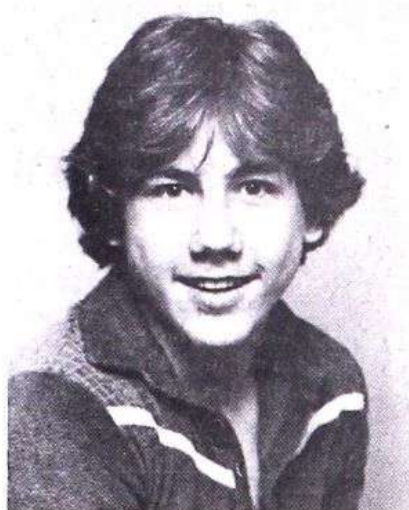

Remove from heat and add three-fourths cup (3 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese; stir until melted. Return to heat if necessary to melt cheese, but do not boil. Top with small crackers. You'll get four cups of soup!

State champs form All-Area nucleus

Belleville, Huron lead ANP roster

It is never too late to honor excellent athletes. And the 1981 Associated Newspapers' high school All-Area Wrestling team is made up of 27 exceptional, young athletes who number among them state, regional, league and invitational tournament champs.

MELVIN RICHENDOLLAR

The nucleus of the First Team is composed of New Boston Huron's state-title winning team whose representation here include: Joe Rice (heavyweight), Jerry Umin (98), Sam Farrugia (126), Mike Umin (132) and Steve Bokor (155).

Belleville, a team that captured the Suburban 8, district and regional titles, contributes such stalwarts as all-around athlete Steve Cook (198), Melvin Richendollar (185), Lonnie Renfro (145), and Norm Bates, while their arch league rival, Plymouth Salem placed Bill Ward (119) and Steve Szilagyi (167) on the coveted club.

Rounding out the first team are Wayne Memorial's Paul Justice and Dan Matauch (112).

The coaching responsibility for this exceptional team was delegated to Tom Fritz, New Boston Huron's mat tactician who has produced some awesome wrestlers in that rustic community.

The ANP sports panel and coaches have also singled out 14 wrestlers for Second Team honors, choosing to pick two outstanding wrestlers for the 155-pound class: Bob Mullen (Plymouth Salem) and Lyn Kinsey (Belleville).

The Second Team line-up looks like this: Marty Piper (heavyweight, Plymouth Salem), Jeff Vojcek (98, Plymouth Salem), Don Reynolds (105, John Glenn), Walter Young (112, Belleville), Wade Tackett (119, New Boston Huron), Brett Haarala (126, Plymouth Canton), Ron Pittman (132, Wayne Memorial), Jim Daniel (138, Wayne Memorial), Greg O'Neil (145, Belleville), Randy Manny (185, New Boston Huron) and Steve Alywine (198, Westland John Glenn).

RICE was the second leading point-getter this year on Coach Fritz' team. He placed first in every tournament except two — the conference and the state where he was awarded the silver medals. A senior who will take with him gold medals for his superb performances at the Huron, John Glenn, Belleville, Schoolcraft, Woodland, Downriver, District and Regional tournaments, this heavyweight will be difficult to replace.

UMIN is only a sophomore and is probably the only sophomore in this area ever to capture a Class B state wrestling crown. With a 43-2 won-lost record, Umin was the 'Most Valuable Wrestler' this year on the Huron squad, winning every tournament he competed in with the exception of the Huron Invitational where he lost a close 4-3 decision and that to Robert Rodriguez — this year's Class A state champ at 105.

"Jerry is one of our super-sophomores," said Coach Fritz, "and may rewrite wrestling history if he continues to perform the way he has."

JUSTICE is also an underclassman who will return to Wayne Memorial next season to improve upon an enviable 40-11 won-lost record. He won the Rochester Adams, Great Lakes 8 Conference

The Sports Meridian

The best is yet to come

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

When you've won the state title, one would think you've arrived. But in the case of New Boston Huron's wrestling program and head Coach Tom Fritz the tune they're playing is "The best is yet to come."

Huron dominated the Class B state championships this year and Coach Fritz and his Chiefs now have won the last seven Huron conference championships; five of the six last seven Huron conference championships; five of the six last district championships and four of the six last regional championships.

Is it no wonder that Fritz was nominated and selected as the Associated Newspapers' Coach of the Year?

"The only way to describe what's happening out in Huron," said one coach, "is that Fritz has built himself a wrestling machine that is second to none in this state."

"And, do you know what — his next year's team can be his best, after all he has the Umin brothers, Jerry and Mike, and the Bokor kid, who also won the state title, are coming back."

"They're just awesome," moaned the coach. "Fritz has been 'awesome'. He has won the Class B state title twice now — in 1976-77 and this year. And, if everything falls into place, his team should repeat next year."

TOM FRITZ
'Coach of the Year'

School millage key to coaches' future

But fate may step in to detour the Chiefs' tactician. There is this millage thing, and the cutbacks that go along with it when they're not approved.

As in most local and area school districts, school boards are having their problems convincing an unemployment-plagued, tax-riddled, and inflationary hard-hit electorate to approve school operating levies.

Consequently, teachers will be laid off; programs cut back and most of the personnel in the schools are getting sick of having their heads placed on the guillotine each Spring. They're seeking employment in other fields. No one can blame them.

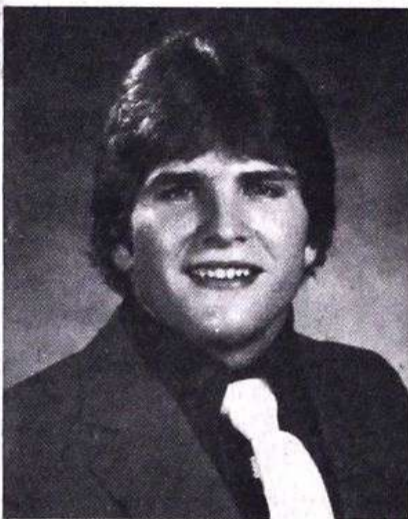

If the 20 mills are not approved by the Wayne-Westland Community School District on June 9, how many coaching jobs will be axed? I'm afraid to think. Yes, you're going to need a program to identify all the new coaching faces in this area come next fall, believe me.

Belleville; Romulus. Livonia — all of these school districts and their teachers and the coaches have to be worried. And the solution? Maybe the May 19th Proposal A tax cut may solve some of the problems. I personally doubt it. Tische III — no way.

Let's get back to Fritz — at least he's a winner.

A 14-year coach who launched his career at Flat Rock, Tom has had stopped during his career at Belleville and Riverview before deciding to take the job at Huron where he has headed the wrestling program for the past seven years. Let's just say, "Congratulations, Tom, to you and your Chiefs". And get back to the baseball, track and tennis seasons.

and Class A regional titles while placing fifth in the state.

MATAUCH will also be returning to Coach Don Haney's Zebras and has two years of varsity competition to look forward to. With credentials that include gold-medal winning performances at the regional and conference meets, this state qualifier could develop into one of the best at a school that has produced some of the best prep wrestlers in the state. Matauch also placed fifth at Schoolcraft and second in the districts.

FARRUGIA lost only three of his 36 matches this year and Fritz points out "that not enough can be said about this young man." Sam joins a select few who has won 100 or more matches for Huron during their careers, the Chiefs will miss this senior when the season rolls around next year.

UMIN wrestled at 132 most of the year but elected to move up to 138 for the state meet where he earned a fourth place medal. A junior, he'll be back with his younger brother, Jerry, to help form a team that should be able to defend its state crown.

BATES wound up his senior year at Belleville with a 36-8 won-lost ratio, (151-19 career record) and the Suburban 8 Conference title at 138. He set a Belleville team takedown record with 117 net takedowns, and went on to the state where he also earned a fourth place medal.

RENFROE came within one victory of winning the Class A state championship at 145. The 17-year-old fine-looking senior contributed a 34-8 over-all record to Coach Gerald Malacek's Tigers. During the course of his career he racked up a 52-16-2 over-all record and was the league champion for the last two years at 138 and 145.

BOKOR was one of those "pleasant surprises" for the Huron team who jolted his state competitors by winning it all. A junior who sported a 41-7 record and placing in every tournament he entered, Coach Fritz has labeled Steve "as (Continued on Page B-9)

Daran Armstrong, ex-Glenn cage star, signs with WSU

Daran Armstrong, a 5-11 point guard from Henry Ford Community College, has signed a national letter of intent to play basketball at Wayne State University next fall.

Armstrong, who was recruited by schools such as Michigan State, Stanford, Stetson, LaMar and Hillsdale College, sat out much of his sophomore season with a broken foot.

During his freshman season at Henry Ford, however, Armstrong earned All-Conference and All-State honors while averaging 18.5 points and 7 assists per game.

A three-year starter at Westland John Glenn High School, Armstrong set six varsity school records including career scoring, career assists, career steals, single game assists and single season assists and steals.

Armstrong chose Wayne State because of its academic reputation and its up-and-coming basketball program. "I've heard a lot about Wayne State's Law School and I think I would eventually like to go into law," said Armstrong. "And I think that Wayne's basketball team is really going places. Vern Payne is a very personable man who knows his basketball."

Henry Ford head coach Jim Armatige spoke highly of Armstrong's future career. "Daran is a true college point guard — and there aren't very many true point guards. He's a Division I player, an exceptional athlete who does just what a college coach wants him to do," said Armatige. "And with a 3.3 grade point average, Daran will be a success at whatever he does."

Belleville put 3-0 league record on block

Tigers face crucial tests: Edsel, Plymouth Salem

Belleville High won't be looking over its shoulder to see what Trenton is doing this week as Tiger skipper Tom Fielder has a pair of crucial Suburban 8 Conference baseball battles on his mind.

Both Belleville and Trenton resumed competition this week with 3-0 conference marks and they'll meet next week, but before that confrontation the Tigers have to hurdle two league rivals: Edsel Ford and Plymouth Salem.

Belleville was to meet Edsel Tuesday afternoon (weather permitting) and will then host always tough Plymouth Salem on Friday.

"My personal philosophy is that you can't look to next week when you have a lot of work right in front of you," Fielder said. "Edsel is tough — they always have been — and Salem is a perennial confeder.

"We have to win this week before worrying about what Trenton has or doesn't have."

Belleville, off to its best start on the diamond in recent years, took an 8-3 record into the week after splitting a doubleheader with neighboring Ypsilanti. The Tigers swept a twin bill from Livonia Franklin, then split with Chippewa Valley, winning 13-3, but falling 7-0 in the second game.

"We were able to use a lot of players during the vacations," Fielder added, "and obviously I'm very pleased that we won."

Belleville scored four times in the top of the fourth and went on to humble Ypsilanti 6-1 in their opener to give pitcher Cliff Cicotte his second victory of the campaign. Cicotte fanned four and walked one while giving up six hits in six full innings of work. He was relieved by Kelvin Roberts in the seventh.

Rick Harper's two-run double in the fourth triggered the rally. Roberts hammered a two-run homer in the fifth with Don Adkins who had walked.

In the nightcap, Ypsilanti erupted for three runs in the last of the seventh to edge the Tigers 6-5. Roberts was tagged with the loss. He gave up a bases-loaded single to Kevin Frisebee, which tied the game, and a game-winning base hit to Todd Brown.

Belleville took a 5-2 lead in the top of the second, but couldn't hang on. The Tigers also wasted a pair of triples by Dave Leblanc.

Larry Petrowski scattered six hits as Belleville turned back Livonia Franklin 7-2 in the opening game of their series. Petrowski, trailing 1-0 until the bottom of the fifth when the Tigers exploded for six runs, picked up his second victory. He fanned seven and walked two.

Losers Brad George whiffed nine and walked two and was relieved in the sixth.

George got in trouble in the fifth when he gave up a bunt single to Adkins and a two-run triple to Sam Villa after Brian Good was safe on an error; Leblanc got aboard when the catcher failed to hang on a third strike and, with two-away, Petrowski belted a single and Doug Lintner doubled in a run.

Jeff Morris's single drove in the sixth tally of the inning.

Franklin blew a 3-0 lead in the second game as the Tigers walked away with a 6-5 win. Dave Daniels, who worked two-thirds of an inning in relief of Roberts, chalked up the win, while Knight was charged with the loss.

Belleville scored the winning run in the bottom of the seventh when Adkins was safe on an error, stole second, advanced to third on a groundout and raced home on Harper's sacrifice fly.

A three-run triple by Daniels sparked an 8-run first inning as Belleville destroyed Chippewa 13-3. Villa, the winner, spaced six hits, struck out eight and walked three in an abbreviated game called because of the mercy rule.

The Tigers pounded out 11 hits, as Roberts went three for four and batted in three runs. Greg Brinkerhoff had three RBIs on two singles at four times at bat and Daniels finished with two hits.

Chippewa came back to shut out Belleville 7-0 as Paul Paherski pitched a three-hitter. Cicotte was charged with the loss as he fired a seven hitter, walked one and struck out four.

an awesome figure next year on the mat."

RICHEOLLAR may not realize it but his father, Jim, started the wrestling program at Belleville High School. Mr. Richendollar presently serves as principal at that school. The young Richendollar, who is a 185-pound junior, continued the family wrestling tradition with an exceptional year, finishing sixth in Class A in a very tough weight class. He would up winning 30 matches while losing 15.

COOK is as versatile as they come. A member of the All-Area grid team for the past two years — a feat he duplicated in wrestling — Steve has been the troubleshooter for the Tigers, leading them to a repeat conference championship and lifting them among the top teams in the state for the past three years.

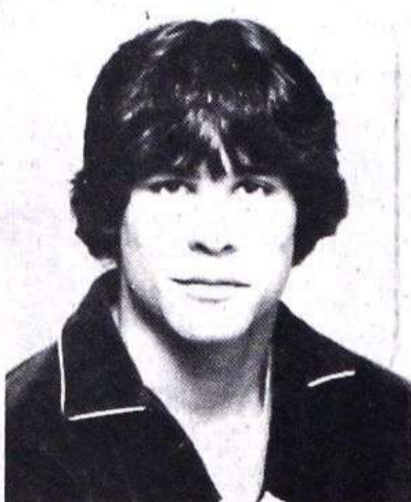

Cook's piled up an outstanding 42-5 record this year and finished his prep career with a dazzling 111-17-1 over-all mark which included winning the conference title for the past three years. Named the Tiger "Outstanding Wrestler", Steve placed fourth at state this year after finishing third in 1980.

He was also a qualifier as a sophomore.

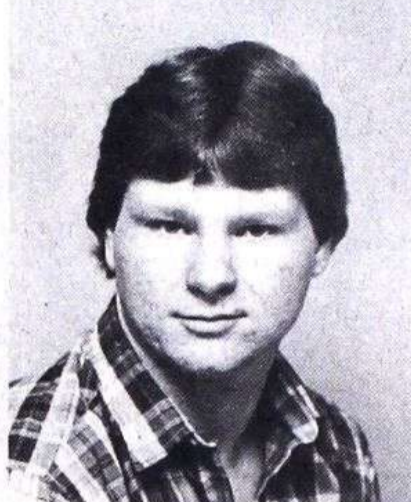

Belleville had been ranked as high as No. 1 during the course of the 1980-81 season, and it was the first time in ANP history that both the Class B (Huron) and Class A (Belleville) top state rankings were owned by local teams.

Big 10 honors Wayne softballer

University of Michigan freshman Jody Humphries, a Wayne native (John Glenn High School), has earned a spot on the 1981 All-Big Ten softball team after her fine performance at the Big Ten Tournament last month.

At the tourney, Humphries went 4 for 12 (.333 average) including a double and triple. The Michigan outfielder also scored four runs and collected two RBIs while leading the Wolverines to a fourth place finish.

Humphries was instrumental in Michigan's 5-4 win over Indiana, a team which finished second in the country last year. In that game, Humphries belted two extra-base hits and accounted for three 'M' runs including the game winner.

Humphries, whom coach Bob DeCarolis has labeled "the hardest hitting Michigan player ever," currently carries a .271 average and has 15 RBIs, second-highest on the team.

The Michigan freshman has also been outstanding in the field having committed no errors while compiling 54 put-outs and six assists.

Before coming to Michigan, Humphries led her high school team to the Class B state championship in 1980 and earned a selection to the Detroit News' first team all-state softball squad as an outfielder.

The latest shooting

Is Democracy being relentlessly bent
To its breakable point, without general consent?
I mean, in the light of what's happened again —
The shots at our President and other men —
Do we stand vacillating, just shaking out head
Until a new gunman has left someone dead?
And what has our lack of initiative done
But weaken the law, while enhancing the gun!
Oh, where is the wisdom our leaders all need
To walk in the truths our forefathers decreed?
Or is it too late? Is our spirit dented?
Not so! If we walk in the way of our God.
Not so! If we're willing to help one another.
And see in each person a sister, a brother.
For I've learned as I've lived my few years on this earth
That each person has beauty, and value, and worth.
But some need attention and care they've not had
To cure a sick mind that can only think bad.
Is it our kind of system that lets such things be?
Then let's find the answer, face reality.
For people need love and the hope to belong —
It is born in each heart and can make the sick strong.
